MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, National Foreign Assessment Center
FROM : Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
SUBJECT : Critical, Long-Range Intelligence Problems

As a follow up to the 7 November Executive Committee meeting, I would like you to intensify NFAC's efforts to identify a manageable number of critical, long-range intelligence problems and to extract from them two-three that are sufficiently important to warrant Executive Committee attention. Consideration should be given to soliciting the views of policymakers early in this process. In conjunction with DDO and DDS&T, you should also begin to develop alternative proposals regarding how to attack these problems. I would like to see some bold and innovative thinking in this area. Please arrange with the Executive Committee Staff to report your progress to the Committee in January.
